

Cops meeting – Monday 8th February

By Nathan Palmer

On Monday 8th February 2010 me, Georgia and Alice went to the COPS meeting (Council of Portsmouth Students). We talked about how we could make lessons in our school more interesting. These were the ideas that COPS came up with:

- More practical lessons
- More lessons linked to the world we understand
- Consistency between teachers
- Cater to the students needs, not the government, councils etc
- More interactive learning

The next meeting is on Monday 15th March.
